PROTECTING FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS IN THE EUROPEAN UNION: WHERE DO WE STANDS?

CP/2015/13

18-19 May	ERA - Trier, Germany	EJTN's deadline for application: 4 May 2015
-----------	----------------------	--

Topic: other area of EU Law

Description:

The European Union has long proclaimed its attachment to the rule of law and fundamental rights. The Treaty of Lisbon has given flesh and blood to this commitment by providing the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union with binding effect and by allowing the European Union to access the European Convention of Human Rights.

The existence of three layers of fundamental rights protection in Europe (Council of Europe, European Union, Member States) has created however in practice some challenges that need to be tackled.

The seminar aims to provide participants with tools to ensure an efficient protection of fundamental rights in Europe.

The following key topics will be addressed:

- Latest case-law of the Court of Justice of the European Union in the field of fundamental rights.
- Impact of the European Union's accession to the European Convention of Human Rights on judicial review mechanisms available against violation of fundamental rights in Europe.
- Assessment of the compatibility of the European Court of Human Rights 's case-law and the Court of Justice Status of fundamental rights in the EU legal order.
- Scope of application of the Charter of Fundamental Rights in relation to Member States.
- Impact of the Charter on the balance between fundamental rights and fundamental freedoms.
- National judicial reactions to the CJEU's case law in the field of fundamental rights.

CP/2015/15

21-22 May 2015	ERA - Trier, Germany	EJTN's deadline for application: 24 April 2015
----------------	----------------------	---

Topic: Criminal Law, Judicial Cooperation in Criminal Matters

Description:

In the face of traditional law enforcement techniques having become insufficient to deal with the evolving trends in radicalisation to terrorism and violent extremism, this seminar will analyse the latest developments in the European Union's response to their threat and what further measures still need to be taken. Actions being taken at an EU level, including the work of Europol and the Radicalisation Awareness Network (RAN) as well as that of Member States themselves in recognising and preventing radicalisation will be discussed with a specific focus on the issue of foreign fighters. The key topics will be:

- The basis for co-operation in the EU and further steps to be taken: the EU Strategy for Combating Radicalisation and Recruitment, the Commission's 2014 Communication on strengthening the EU's response to preventing radicalisation to terrorism and violent extremism and the work of RAN and the European Network of Experts on Radicalisation (ENER).
- Member States' actions in countering radicalisation and terrorist recruitment, as well as Europol's work in the field, including its Terrorism Situation and Trend Report (TE-SAT).
- The necessity to create an institutional infrastructure to identify people at risk and prevent their radicalisation, as well as the need for effective cooperation with civil society.
- The use of online and offline tools to radicalise, their monitoring and the need for counter-communication.
- The legal dilemma of returning foreign fighters, their deradicalisation and developing effective exit-strategies.

13 July (3pm) to 15 July (2pm) 2015	SSM - Scandicci, Italy	EJTN's deadline for application: 12 June 2015
--	------------------------	--

Topic: Criminal matters, Judicial Cooperation in Criminal Matters, European Criminal Procedure, European Criminal Substantive Law, other subject: ECHR

Description:

The course reiterates a successful training experience of the previous year, dedicated to the judges and prosecutors who are less experienced in the application of the European Convention on Human Rights and who are, more and more, required to "work" with its rules and the decisions of the Court of Strasbourg. The "operating instructions" will address the impact of the ECHR system on judicial activity, passing in review the main areas of substantive law (the right to life, private and family life, right to honour and reputation, right to property, right to human and non-degrading treatment) and procedural law (right to a fair trial and the reasonable duration of it) affected by the ECHR case law; without neglecting the major issues of the status of the ECHR rules and its implementation into domestic law, in the light of the international debate on the role of the Strasbourg Court and the process of EU accession to the ECHR.

JOINT INVESTIGATION TEAM: IMPLEMENTATION

CR/2015/07

21-25 September 2015	Police Academy – Tampere, Finland	EJTN's deadline for application: 30 June 2015

Description

In cooperation with the CEPOL and the JIT's Network, the EJTN funds the annual participation of judges and prosecutors from the different EU Member States to CEPOL's seminars on Joint Investigation Teams, aiming at fostering a greater cooperation and information-exchange between magistrates and law enforcement officers at the EU level. The seminars follow a unique format which gathers judges and prosecutors and CEPOL senior police officers for 4-days-long trainings delivered by highly qualified international experts. The seminars encompass a well-balanced distribution between lectures/presentations on the fundamental concepts on JITs, presentations by the partner institutions and, most importantly, a set of key workshops transversal to the entire seminar.

Target group / limits

Criminal Judges and prosecutors preferably involved in cross-border criminal investigations.

Topic: Other area of EU LawDescription:

The conference is targeted to judges from all branches of jurisdiction as well as to public prosecutors. It will provide an overview of the international norms in the field of human rights. These norms are attaining more and more significance for the German justice system. The judgments of the European Court of Human Rights are the clearest example of this.

In the past several years, the ECHR has issued landmark decisions in various fields of the law (primarily family law and criminal law) which have had considerable effects on German legislation and legal practice. For that reason, it is important to anchor among judges a consciousness for the influences on the German legal system of the international human rights conventions.

In addition to lectures, an exchange of experiences and discussions, there are plans to visit the European Court of Human Rights in Strasbourg.

Topic: Criminal Law, European Criminal ProcedureDescription:

Depuis quelques années, les efforts accomplis à l'échelle internationale et au niveau des États, pour combattre la corruption, encourager la transparence et accroître la responsabilité prennent de l'ampleur, parce que l'on comprend mieux le coût politique, économique et social de la corruption.

Grâce à cette mobilisation, des victoires importantes ont été remportées, mais d'autres batailles sont à mener : la formation en est une. Par conséquent, consacrer une session de formation complète à la corruption, sa prévention par les autorités publiques mais aussi la détection des comportements et la répression des infractions qui peuvent être constituées, était une nécessité.

Destinée à des professionnels français et étrangers (magistrats, fonctionnaires) qui sont confrontés à la gestion administrative ou judiciaire des faits de corruption - ou assimilés - et à leur prévention, cette session se propose de sensibiliser et de former ces professionnels tant à la prévention, qu'à la répression de ce phénomène.

La session permettra notamment de mettre à la disposition des participants l'expertise du Service Central de Prévention de la Corruption (SCPC), ainsi que des outils techniques et juridiques permettant de détecter au mieux, de réguler ou de traiter ce type de comportements.

Cette session comprendra des conférences mais aussi de tables rondes et de débats sur des angles de vue particuliers (action internationale, point de vue de la société civile, etc.), afin de permettre un partage d'expériences et de connaissance du phénomène et de son traitement avec, pour objectif, une meilleure prise de conscience des enjeux de la corruption, tant en France qu'au niveau international.

INTERNATIONAL JUDICIAL COOPERATION IN CRIMINAL MATTERS: EAW AND MLA SIMULATIONS

CR/2015/11

23-25 November 2015	CEJ – Lisbon, Portugal	EJTN's deadline for application: 25 September 2015

Description

The training is based on an innovative approach relying on a "learn-by-doing" method. Through a simulation, participants face the progress of a case inspired from real facts and involving both national and cross border cooperation. This simulation calls for the use of EU mutual legal recognition instruments such as the European Arrest Warrant and the execution of orders freezing properties and evidence as well as instruments based on the principle of mutual legal assistance (MLA).

Target group / limits

Judges and prosecutors from Portugal, Croatia and the Netherlands.
Preferably prosecutors and criminal judges involved in judicial cooperation in criminal matters or cross-border cases.

Number of participants

45 – minimum 12 per participating country

Language regime

English
